Research Policy

Almost all the education commissions in India emphasized on the three aspects: teaching, research and extension and the educational institutes imparting knowledge in field of higher education are expected to do elaborate contribution in the above three aspects. It is needless to say that no field of life can extricate itself from research which leads to the path of development and excellence. And the academic institutions are no exception to this maxim. Every facet of education needs to go through the process of research for achieving dynamic status and advancement in knowledge. Keeping this principle in view, our college promotes and motivates the teachers and the students to enter the field of research in their concerned areas of study. The college has devised its research policy as follows:

Purpose:

The aim of this research policy is to create an ambience compatible to the teaching faculty and the students for initiating research in their concerned fields of study. This policy helps them to instill interest and inquisitiveness in their subjects. The research committee helps them to find out new areas for exploration and identify their thrust areas with having the sense of social, national and pedagogical relevance and contribution to the existing knowledge in the field.

Scope:

The chief aim of the college is to follow and implement the ethical elements in research which are necessarily applicable to all the departments in the disciplines of Arts, Science and Commerce. The research policy has been devised in such a manner that there is a nice amicable coordination between the Research Committee and the departments.

Custodian of the policy:

As a nodal officer, The Chairperson (Principal) of the Research Committee is carries the responsibility of the implementation and updating of the research policy. The research policy will have an Advisory Committee to help in the matters related to research.
